Once pending hours are approved, your course will be visible on CE Broker's course search.

CE Broker has routed your course information (including file attachments) to all applicable Boards. At no time does CE Broker make any eligibility determinations. As each Board makes an eligibility determination, the system user who submitted this course will receive a message in his/her Communication Center on this website and, if elected on his/her profile, an e-mail.

Depending on the Board, the response may be immediate, following a quarterly Board meeting, or any time in the interim.

3. The email the provider receives once the course has been APPROVED by the board

4. The notifications the provider receives in their account, showing the both the submission and approval confirmations

5. If the board approver leaves a comment for the provider, the comment will be visible in the approved/rejected course application itself.

The screenshot displays a web interface for course applications. On the left is a sidebar with three menu items: 'Boards' (with a calendar icon), 'Communications' (with a speech bubble icon), and 'Users' (with a group of people icon). The main content area is titled 'Offering information' and includes an 'Edit' link. It contains three sections: 'Offering information' with fields for 'VISIBLE IN COURSE SEARCH:' (No) and 'MAKE VISIBLE EVEN IF NO FUTURE OFFERING DATES EXIST:' (No), followed by the text 'No offerings added'; 'Attachments' with a date '03/28/2024', the title 'New Hampshire Advisory Board of Medical Imaging and Radiation Therapy', and the text 'No attached files'; and 'Comments' with the title 'New Hampshire Advisory Board of Medical Imaging and Radiation Therapy'. A comment box at the bottom of the 'Comments' section contains the text 'TEST COMMENT VISIBLE TO PROVIDERS.' and is highlighted with a red rectangular border. A red arrow points from the right side of the image towards this comment box.
